May 2017 News

Some of LevRidge Resources were away on Spring Break recently and they were missed! Everyone's back safe and sound now and we're sharing some pictures of their time away. We also are sharing some current job openings with some of our clients in case you know someone special interested in making a change. And we want to let you know the latest on who we having the pleasure of working with right now.

Featured LevRidge Resource: Barbara Spradling

Barbara Spradling, a former executive with Bank of America and the Director of the Innovation Institute at the McColl Center for Art and Innovation, Barbara has been a senior consultant with LevRidge Resources since 2012. Her excellent Board Development and Strategic Planning consulting have helped many of our clients strengthen their nonprofit organizations. This month, she is finishing up her work with The Mint Museum on their new strategic plan and Shalom Park on new business operations strategies. She continues to consult with Boards of Directors with Envision Charlotte and the Charlotte Jewish Preschool.

Barbara loves her work because:

"Nonprofits provide hope whether they protect children, provide housing or give the gift of music and art. Nonprofit staff members work harder and longer hours than most in other industries against more uncertain and often daunting financial challenges. Using my business skills to help them succeed is rewarding and a real gift to me."

Job Openings

A few of our clients have job opportunities and they'd welcome your interest and recommendations:

Coordinator, <https://classroomcentral.org/about/staff/careers/>

Bill Geiger is transitioning from his engagement as the Interim Executive of Daniel Stowe Botanical Garden. This week he welcomes and is onboarding the new Executive Director, Patrick Larken who started his new role on Monday. Welcome Patrick!

Art Gallagher is very much 'on the job' as the Interim Executive for A Child's Place, in Charlotte.

Patty Drummond, who keeps our act together and tries to keep us organized, took her spring break in Europe! Guess where she was here? Kathy could not be happier to have her back here!

Katie Benston and her husband, Tommy, last week at Lake Como, Italy. Katie is back at work now with Elon Homes and Schools and Clayworks.

He Made It! The day after he finished his engagement as the Interim Executive Director for Thompson Child and Family Focus, Bruce LaRowe flew to San Diego to begin biking his way back across the country! Last week, he made it back and here he is at the Atlantic Ocean in Florida, two months after he started!

We're glad he's safely back home and getting some rest. He'll need it because he begins next month as the Interim Executive Director for the Mint Museum.

"The biggest mistake I made is the one that most of us make while doing this. I did not live in the moment enough. This is particularly clear now that the moment is gone, captured only in photographs."
